

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has surpassed all other medicines, in merit, value and cures. The success, great as it has been, has not been reached by actual count more than 10,000 testimonials in two years. It purifies the blood, cures all blood diseases, all humors and all eruptions. It strengthens the stomach, creates an appetite and builds up the whole system. It cures that tired feeling and makes the weak strong. It is a liquid form of the chocolate tablets known as Sarsapata. 100 doses $1.

WATERFORD.

Marston-Mason.

A pretty home wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitcomb, Sunday, the contracting parties being Elsie S. Marston and John F. Mason, who are now in this town.

The bride was prettily attired in a blue cashmere gown and carried white lilies. They were attended by Miss Millett and Lawrence Marston, who also carried white lilies.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Fuller of North Waterford at four o'clock in the afternoon, the single ring service being used. Dora Young of South Waterford played the wedding march. Although it was rainy a large number of guests were present. The following presents were received:

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitcomb—Wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Millett—Cake plate.

Lawrence Marston and mother—Mus-tache cup and salad dish.

Mrs. G. W. Greene—China sugar bowl and cream pitcher.

Mrs. Ida Kimball—Glass pickle dish.

Percy Kimball—Glass butter dish.

Hazel Millett—Tea stand.

Charlie Wiley—Butter plate.

Riding Astride.

President Roosevelt has expressed himself in favor of riding astride and it is hoped the habit will receive a great impulse forward through the President's favor. The custom is growing fast, and what President Roosevelt says is in line with strong public sentiment.
There are mighty arguments for the departure from the old style. It is not so dangerous to ride astride; not half so dangerous from breaking girths, tipping saddles or sticking stirrups as with the side sitting method.

And then what is very important is that the astride style gives one grace and freedom of movement; and on this account health and joy. No one sees a woman riding on a side-saddle that does not wonder how she sticks on, and this wonder amounts to a fact that she is going to fall off. And then she is generally up there in a hunch, in a contracted position, strangely misrepresenting the beautiful creature she is.

But when she is astride, sitting firm and free and her drapery hanging gracefully down, there is a figure that your eye follows, while the horse gallops away and away, until the vision relapses into a fancy that lingers long.

Eat What You Want.

Science Has Now Found the True Way to Cure Indigestion.

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.
But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can the food be done as well as taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal.
This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion, will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by Mi-o-na before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.
The guarantee that Noyes Drug Store, Frank Kimball, Prop., give with every 50-cent box of Mi-o-na, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows their confidence in the treatment. 40-41

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

ther in His all-wise Providence, to suddenly remove from our midst our brother, Hans Staller;
RESOLVED, That in the death of brother Muller, his wife, mother, the granite and the counter have met with an irreparable loss of nourishment and comfort. Our brother has left us but the memory of his many talents is with us and will ever be ours to encourage and sustain.
RESOLVED, That the heartfelt sympathy of the Bear Mountain Grange and its members and mother to their affliction and commend them to our Heavenly Father. The consolation which no human heart can offer. Therefore be it RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions

The Paragraph Pulpit.

BY EDWIN A. RUMBALL.

"The fruit of righteousness is sown in peace." There is a great deal said from time to time about peace which is only half true. Generally when peace is passive it is really torpor. Peace is active, positive, always a victory over the lack of peace. We sometimes speak of peace after storm or battle and we mentally contrast the quiet ocean or the silent battlefield with the previous anguish of elements and man. But here we are deceived by our figures. The peace of which we think is not the peace of the sea or the battlefield, it is the peace of a human life. The moment we try to illustrate it with anything less than human life, that moment we lose it.
Peace is not a condition after the storm but in the storm. We are not told to rejoice after tribulation, but in tribulation. It is no credit to you to be able to trust God when the storm is over.
Peace is only peace when it comes to you while you are in the midst of the storms of life. It is the result of doing your duty. The man who trusts has no need to worry whether he is going to sink or swim. He only knows that that is God's to look after, he has got to do his duty. This is the man who is in peace.
The man who does his duty is conscious that he is where God wants him to be, while he who worries and is anxious is without peace, because he cannot do his duty and worry also.

Agricultural Studies in All Public Schools.
At a recent field meet of the Massachusetts State Grange, Assistant Secretary W. H. Hayes of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, dwelt long on this subject and strongly urged the conducting of agricultural studies in all grades from primary schools to the college.
Secretary Hayes certainly gives commendable advice that should receive serious consideration by our learned school boards, so that the young man on completing his school education will come out to do battle with the world armed with at least one practical stock in trade. An exchange did not come far from the truth, recently, when it spoke thusly:
"The young man who is graduated from the high school to-day is not prepared for anything. He has a smattering of almost anything under the sun, but he knows nothing thoroughly. He cannot write a legible hand, he is not accurate at figures, he spells badly and composes a atrociously. He has laid a foundation, it is urged, and that may be admitted, though with some reservations. But this is not what is needed.
He must be able to do some one thing at least and do it well, and this not one in a hundred can do. He has been coddled too much; the road to learning has been made too easy. For arithmetic with its old time rigid analyses and mental exercises and problems, there have been substituted homopoeathic dilutions of "number work," "number lessons" and Lindley Murray's and Peter Bullion's English grammars with their analyses of the language and their rules of syntax.
Geography has become a mere scribble and writing has degenerated into a scribble.
And the result of it all is—nothing of value."
Why should not Maine embody a complete agricultural education in her school courses? It is our mainstay and always has been.

Sermon by an Ex-ball Player.

Rev. Billy Sunday's revival meetings have made a stir in the middle west.
During his visit here he said that the Devil is a "smooth guy." Going on he said: "He knows all your weaknesses and how to appeal to them. He knows about you, (pointing out over a lot of quailing heads) over there, and he has spent sixty dollars in the last two years of tobacco to make your home and the streets filthy—and that you haven't bought your wife a new dress in two years because you can't afford it." "He knows about you, (turning the accusing finger suddenly in another direction) and the time and money you spend on foot hats and on card parties doing what you call 'getting on in society,'— while your husband is being driven away from home by badly cooked meals and your children are running loose on the street learning to be hoodlums." "He knows about you, (picking out a prosperous but highly embarrassed citizen) sir, too, and he says you buy when you go back to the drug store prescription counter 'to buy medicine for the baby.'"
"He knows about you, (and a group of boys at the back slid down on their benches with a modest most aggressive) and that girl over at Ottumwa. He knows about you and the lie you told about the girl across the street because she is sweeter and truer than you are and the boys go to see her and don't go to see you—you miserable thrower of slime dug out of your own rotten envy.
Oh, the Devil knows his business; you can bet your last four dollars on that!"

Sending Flowers.

In sending flowers to an invalid great discrimination should be used. Be careful not to cause any extra work to an already overburdened family.
Avoid violent color contrasts. The nervous system is always slightly dis-ordered and the perceptions are unduly sharpened in a serious illness, and the contrast of vivid reds and pinks and yellows may be really harmful, and will surely be disagreeable to the patient.
Choose, instead, delicate pinks, soft creams or light blues.
Do not, above all send white roses unaccompanied by any other flower nor an abundance of unrelieved white flowers of any kind.

Fear of Fresh Air.

People who were born and bred in the country, and who still live there are, as a rule, curiously afraid of fresh air. From their living rooms, especially the "parlor," they rigidly exclude every approach of outdoor air except at house cleaning time, and they are more cautious still as to sleeping rooms.
The farmers, in spite of their outdoor employment, suffer not a little from consumption. It is not a pity when these country dwellers might have their lungs filled with pure, fresh air and light, sleeping or waking, that the poisoned air they breathe at night should be allowed to offset the good effects obtained through the day's work in the field.

If the enlightened visitors, paying guests and summer boarders, who have learned that one's place of living may be depended upon to prevent consumption would but circulate their knowledge in a practical way in county places, their vacations would accomplish their own health.
